

California Jurisdictions Addressing Climate Change 2016 Summary

The Governor’s Office of Planning and Research (OPR) has prepared a DRAFT list of plans and initiatives adopted by California Jurisdictions to address climate change. This information is from OPR's 2012 and 2013 Annual Planning Survey and augmented with personal interviews. As with all OPR publications, you may print and manipulate all or part of these graphs and the original source spreadsheet as long as you credit OPR. Updated 3/16/16.

Please refer to our original document California Jurisdictions Addressing Climate Change 2016 for more details and definitions of these specific policies and plans. Also note that only 76 coastal cities and counties that border our state are eligible for adopting Local Coastal Programs, whereas all 534 cities, counties and towns are eligible for all other plans.
